The President's Message

During my years at Algoma University College in Sault Ste. Marie, I had the privilege of having an ongoing interaction with our Native Community.

I remember distinctly of one incident, standing on the front steps of Shingwauk Hall, with a 90-year-old Elder and a Medicine Man. The three of us stood quietly looking out over our Campus and the St. Mary's River.

Pointing to our front lawn, the old Elder stated, "Many battles have been fought here. My people would come prepared to talk of peace but at times they were ambushed."

Then standing up straight, he proudly exclaimed, "But they were warriors! They were always prepared!"

As Christians, can we say the same? Spiritual warfare is real. We must always be prepared.

I trust this past year has added to your preparation; that it has better equipped you to live that daily life, at times, in the heat of the battle.

You are a "Warrior for Christ". Wear his armour proudly, remembering, you do not walk alone.

Let's encourage each other by remembering God's special reference to Joshua's army as they moved into position on that great day when the sun and moon stood still. "The valiant warriors went up from Gilgal with Joshua." (Joshua 10:7)

Dr. Bruce E. Gordon
President, OBC/OTS

Many memories from this past year have been captured in this book. They are the good times with friends either studying or playing or just plain procrastinating. Just as the contents will evoke the happy memories, there are also memories of the hard times, the battles that are always waged for one reason or another during a school year. The most exciting thing about that is that our Lord Jesus Christ and His Father and the Comforter have been there every step of the way. We as Christians have built our lives on the foundation of the life of Jesus Christ. In the parable of the foolish man and the wise man, the wise man builds his house upon the rock. The rock for each of us is Jesus Christ. As many of us have found out this year, He is the One upon whom we can stand and not be destroyed by the storms in our lives. Thank you, Jesus, for being that Rock. We give You all glory and honor.

The beauty and majesty of God's creation goes beyond explanation, but never beyond contemplation!

Dave Nichols' The Insiders Report

Once upon a time in the land of OBC, the student leaders travelled to a far away place, Awenda Provincial Park, where all the families play. Everyone was really excited about the new year, but decided to take time out for ourselves. At least, that's what most of us had in mind, right, Chris?!

Drip, Drop, Flash, BOOM!!!! The familiar sounds of the first night. Hey, there is a flood in the basement of my tent. No, I didn't wet my sleeping bag. I haven't seen this much water since the flood in Noah's day. While some worked hard digging trenches around their tents, certain individuals, J, and D., slept in a nice dry car.

Cherlyn Fagan had a farm, EIEIO. And on that farm she had "Sommersby"? First day, it rained most of the morning, so many hopped in the bus and spent the afternoon at Cherlyn's farm. Some decided to tough it out and hang out at the campsite and had tons of fun. The weather cleared up in the evening, but the wind picked up. We headed to the beach to watch the whitecapped waves hit the rocks. Who are the two brave souls who swam in these waves, Mimi and Shelly? Our very own "On Shore Singers" entertained most of the trip. That night on the beach, they led praise and worship songs. What an opportunity to be surrounded by God's beauty and peace.

Sunshine, sunshine in my soul today. What a great way to begin our second day camping. We began with some quality group bonding time. Hey, Scott, how far can you fly? Then we headed for the beach for the afternoon. Canoeing, swimming, beach volleyball, football or just some relaxing in the sun. And for some extra excitement, how about we throw people with their clothes on in the water, eh, Sandy? OBC's famous leaning tower of Pisa, Four people high- AMAZING!

After a great afternoon, student leaders headed back to the campsite for a Dave Nichol's barbeque. But what is this!! OBC leaders had lost three kittens who then began to cry! What a long hike this is going to be, Shelly, Heidi and Danielle. What have we here? What kind of example is thumbing a ride with a complete stranger?

To end our spectacular experience, we shared food, fellowship and fun. A huge thanks goes out to the entire Community Life staff who organized an excellent fun-filled event. Our group bonded together and learned to lean on God and each other. A special thanks to Dave Nichols for great food that kept us going, right, Robin!

Journey To A Whole New World

When I showed up on that exciting, invigorating, nerve-racking, electrifying, important, stimulating, meaningful, galvanizing, joyous and even momentous Frosh move-in day, I had very little idea what I was really getting myself into. I had heard a lot about what it was like to live in dorm at a bible college, but now I was going to experience this for myself. It felt as if some of the world's biggest questions were all running through my mind at the same time. What would my roommate be like? Would I like the rest of the guys in my Rez? Would I be able to do all the work for the classes? What on earth is Katimavik? Hamburgers? What is up with that?!

When I look back at Frosh week, two words come to mind. Acceptance and Community.
When I moved into OBC, I felt accepted. Through all the activities we did that week, I felt an overwhelming love flowing from the others on this journey to a whole new world. I did not feel as if I were on the outside looking in, but that I was on the inside looking out. However, if I were to speak honestly, it was not the programs that made me feel welcomed. It was that the upperclassmen would take time to show us the TTC or hang out in the lounges. It was the people that were there to just "be". This was the real reason for me feeling accepted at OBC.

Community is a big part of OBC life. We are a community of believers that are striving to live for God. During Frosh week, this was very evident. From worship times to late night pizza runs, community was being built with those around us. I am close with those around me at OBC because during Frosh week, time was spent working on community. This is the only thing that can turn OBC into a life changing institution and not just a place to acquire knowledge.

As a Frosh, I want to thank those involved in Frosh Week '93. I had a blast. I lived. I laughed. It was better than Cats. I am only sad that I cannot be a Frosh again in '94.

I began OBC with tears having to leave my family in Cape Breton and I finish OBC with tears having to leave a much bigger family. You, my friends, have pushed me to become more like my precious Saviour. I treasure and thank you for your efforts. To my profs, my dorm, my big brothers and Cheryl, you've gone beyond the call of duty. Mom, Dad and Kim, you have made the journey with me. My deepest gratitude. Now, lead on, OKing Eternal.

Therefore, since we are surrounded by such a great cloud of witnesses, let us throw off everything that hinders and the sin that so easily entangles, and let us run with perseverance the race marked out for us. And this is my prayer: that your love may abound more and more in knowledge and depth of insight, so that you may be able to discern what is best and may be pure and blameless until the day of Christ. (Heb. 12:1. Phil. 4:9, 10)
To all those at OBC or elsewhere who have touched my life, a very special thank you. I will show you by my faith what I do. (James 2:18b)

1.3 South RAs Kim MacEachern and Jennifer Mauger

2. Male Social Conveynor James MacFayden and Creative Arts Chair Tanya Hodgins

3.4 Central RA Chris Matthison

4. 3 North RA Gary Burke and Big Sister Beverly MacDonald

The graduate names that appear here are a combination of those who planned that they would graduate and those that appeared on the potential graduate list that was received from the Registrar's office on January 26, 1994. To those who were not able to complete their graduation requirements, good luck with your studies as you attempt to graduate in 1995. To those who were successful in completing their requirements - CONGRATULATIONS!!!!. Good luck and God's blessings in the future. Enjoy your graduation day - you deserve it!

The things that we will always remember you by, Kevin, are your love for life and the smile that always went with it. Someday, Kevin, we will meet again and together we will sing with all heavens hosts and dance with the angels for all time.

KEVIN OAKLEY KNIGHTS
June 26, 1974 - November 20, 1993

A faith and knowledge resting on the hope of eternal life, which God, who does not lie, promised before the beginning of time.

Titus 1:2

Kevin was a first year student at Ontario Bible College in the Intercultural Program. His long term goal was to go into full-time ministry abroad in the mission field. This is where he felt God was calling him. The Lord called Kevin home on November 20, 1993 to be with Him in Everlasting Glory.

We dedicate this page in the memory of Kevin Oakley Knights. May his testimony go with all he has touched in his short stay here with us. Pray also for the Knights family in the loss of their son.

Dorm Life

Three North

Breton Murphy

Gary Burke

When you think of third floor, what comes to mind? Do you picture a place that is quiet, full of intense studious labor and little activity? If your answer is yes than you will need to adjust your view of the Village of North Alloway.

In actual fact, these land surveyors, English teachers, tour guides, sports fanatics, video dishheads, Sunday School teachers, Bible Study leaders, sports directors, youth leaders, cashiers, counsellors, crash test dummies, ceiling tile cleaners, welder/fitters, machine operators, flagmen, rangers, data processing managers, pastors, newspaper reporters, editors, photographers, musicians, grocery clerks, student car drivers, tapers, tire technicians, lingerie salesmen, security guards, draftsmen, truckers, farmers, mechanics, landscapers, salesmen, tree planters, pool repairmen, cooks, managers, snorkel gear managers, electronics technicians, Romeos, computer programmers, camp directors, assembly and delivery men, proctors, maintenance men and bus drivers can be a bunch of wild, crazy, uncontrollable animals at times. Taking a walk through here when the boys let loose will prove it to you.

These guys take their studies serious but that doesn't keep them from having fun and building community. Hebrews 10:23—24 is the theme verse for the year. We consider it important amongst our fun, study and ministry to love and encourage one another so that we can grow in the Lord and be more effective servants for Him and shine as His lights.

Dear 3 South,

We want to thank you for all the fun times we've shared this year. We've grown together as a family through good times and bad. There are just a few things that make 3 South unique! As you look back on these events, we hope you will take a few moments to laugh as we have: It's about the bulletin board — where is it and what does 3SWCMS4 really mean? So what if you don't remember the bulletin board. You must remember the granny backwards bowling with 5 South. (Who won the kitchen sink anyway?) And who could forget our guys, or should we say "men" — Go 3 NORTH! Of course, we have the quietest. We have 8 Student Leaders on our floor — hmmm.... Funny how all those leaders were found on top of the roof with the rest of the dorm. Life goes on...but, just barely. Senior panic has almost claimed the lives of many of our dormers. Taking a stroll Sesame Street with its many coffee shops does help lighten the load. (Of course, Jane Fonda also helps with some of the lightening.) Stay away from the pretzels — Remember...we're all counting the calories. Speaking of counting...how many mice are in the broom closet now?

Seriously though, we love you guys. (Is that term gender inclusive?) You made our last year so special. Hey, let's have a reunion in 10 years! Catch ya in the hallway with your PJs on — we'll bring the movie...and the Kleenex.

Love,
Your friendly RAs,
Kim & Jenn

Four North

Eddie De Frietas

Our tale begins one rainy day in September.

Some veterans had already occupied and claimed their territory. Others, new to the OBC experience, quietly began to settle into that small cramped space that would be their home for the next eight months. Together, they would become...The Northern Smurfs!

Led by their fearless RA (Papa Smurf), they were men of character, men with personality, men of purpose and men with a mission. North would never be the same again.

With a combined wattage of 2000+ stereo power, North would never again be thought of as a quiet dorm.

On the football field, they were unstoppable...no, invincible...no, merciful...Yes, merciful, not wanting to force the bitter agonies of defeat on another team. Yes, they were men of character.

When it came to their sisters, there was nothing too good, nothing too special and no task too great to perform. They gave their time, resources, prayers and even roses to the women that fate (Community Life) had brought into their lives. Their encouragement was unsurpassable during those weeks they became secret saints. Yes, they were men of personality.

Northern ladies, we love you. North wouldn't have been the same without you. Thank you for your cheering, your encouragement, your prayers and all the small things you did that made our year such a good one. We'll never forget those crazy, fun dorm dates.

They were men of purpose. To grow in prayer. Who would have ever thought that prayer meeting could be such a fun thing? It was in North. Concerts of Prayer and even some faithful members who dare face the morning at 7:00 a.m. in the Northern lounge, were but a few of the times that made North Grow in Prayer. (Thanks to those of you from Central who joined us in the morning.) 1 Thessalonians 5:11, 16-18.

To be different, to make North the place to be, to grow, to challenge, to encourage and to build up. Truly, the men of North were men with a mission. Men after God's own heart.

A special thank you to all my little smurfs. You guys made my year the greatest I could have had. I'll treasure your friendships and keep you in my prayers and in my heart. God bless each one of you.

Never to be doubted again! Never to be questioned again! Never to be underestimated again! NORTH!

Four Central

Scott Nyp

Chris Matthison

Hamburgers, what's up with that? From the beginning, our 2 fearless leaders—in—action have guided us with their pearls of great wisdom. Scott was there to hang out. Chris was there to be stressed out. However, we do wish to thank these 2 fine up—standing men for putting themselves out.

Let's recall some of the 4 Central memories. Late night pizza runs. Late night/early morning wing runs. Dorm retreats and smelly feet. Dave Nichols of President's Choice and Dan Elliot, the pop guy choice. Lounging around and making a touchdown. Ultimate Baseball, Sherlock Holmes, Tennis—Court Baseball and Coming Home. Hockey Games and Nick Names. (Thunder, Gee, Dave Nichols, Crisper, Christmas Tree, Crispy Crunch.) Loud music and louder music. Theology of hamburgers and I still don't understand that one.

Okay, now that I have you all confused, I want to speak with some clarity. As a rez, we have grown together this year. We have become more than a bunch of guys living on one floor. We have become brothers in Christ. As we all go in different directions, I ask that you will continue to pray for each other. Remember the unity of this year. Remember the brothers on this page. These are men of God going in different directions with one purpose. The pictures on this page are but a two—dimensional representation of those memories. Reflect upon these thoughts. Let them motivate you to unity, caring, love and prayers. Keep on keeping on in His unity.

Spirit of the South

The Halls of South seem to be scented with an aroma of excitement, spirit...and those horrible "belches" that echo into our rooms with a certain forte.

Rooted and Built Up in Christ, Col. 2:6-7. Our goal for the year...to be more like Christ. Those weekly prayer meetings conveniently terminated by the dreaded fire alarm. Who pulled that alarm anyway?

The dream of all Southboys...encounters with the Southgirls. The Sports Bar, the Beaming Blob, the murder of the century...volleyball, floor hockey and, of course, dorm dates.

The Hanger. The social hub of this establishment. If it was going to happen anywhere, it would happen here first. Dorm meeting in the Hanger. Hey, it's crowded in here. "Bitty get off the couch." And the question we're still asking, "Where'd the paper go?"

No, the bamboo in the lounge is not meant for sword fighting.

What is that outside our door? It's our names in Arabic. Of course we knew that. Thanks, Connell.

Southball...renaming football after those who have given new meaning to the game. "My head hurts", "my back hurts", "...am I in the end zone?" Good catch, Glen.

Waking up to a wall of cans outside our door. We'd have never known they were there if you guys hadn't knocked them over a hundred times that night trying to set them up. Granted, it was a nice try.

What's that coming from Peter and Todd's room. It's really music?

South...the experience. South...the reality.

South.

Thanks for being a great dorm. You guys are number one!

Five Central

5 Central is Luana & Holly, Judy & Georgia, Mimi & Sarah, Lesley & Beverly, Kim & Cindy, Heather & Tara, Angela & Christy, Allene & Natasha, Jennifer, and Sandy. What more can we say except that Central is the best. We are spiritual... ("Koom bye ya") yet fun... (Duck Duck Goose), mature... (Go to bed early?!) yet party animals... (dancing in the hallway), studious... (A+) yet athletic... (Boom!).

Just one big group of well-rounded, good-looking, Christian girls. We even get along! Isn't that great?

SIZZLIN' SOUTH

3 cups	thinly sliced Tanya and Krista
1 cup	snipped fresh Tara and Lydia
.5 cup	small head of Lori and Margie lettuce
.25 cup	seeded and chopped Lorna and Rosemary
.75 cup	thoroughly spun Steph and Leigh
1 tsp	finely ground Paula and Kathy
4 cups	all purpose Joy and Naomi
1 tbsp	salted Cheryl
1 pkg	salsa Cynthia
1pkg	semi-sweet Michelle chips
.33 cup	freshly squeezed Esther and Ginny
5 cups	canned or fresh Amy and Pamela puree

Base: With constant prayer, mold 21 girls into Godly women. Add the desire to grow in knowledge of Christ. Mix well. Firmly pack Bible Studies and Prayer meetings until ingredients become rooted in Christ.

Filling: Combine all the above ingredients together and let 'em fry for 8 months, stirring frequently so not to burn (out). Add some good times of friendship and laughter. Mix in some shaving cream, peanut butter and perfume a la carte. Put foot in mouth and bang nails in walls while stealing bananas and cookies. Puncture Ernie and hang him with Pirate Man. George.

Makes 21 servants.

CAUTION: Health hazard to Central, North and 3 South.

After intense tryouts (Yeah, right!), the mighty Swordsmen entered the world of college soccer with an exhibition game against Redeemer College.

The Mohawked defenders and fierce looking forwards were cause for intimidation, but we came up short in our only game of the year. Outshot 66 to 5, the Swordsmen fell 6 to 1 to the Royals. Congrats to Scott Waddell for scoring the first ever goal in Swordsmen soccer. See ya next year!

In the past, the men's flag-football championship has been an exciting and pressure-packed game. This year's final proved to be no different. With the defending champs from South meeting their surprising but determined opponents from North, the combatants were deadlocked 21-21 at the end of regulation time. As darkness set in on that mid-November afternoon, overtime was scheduled for one week later. After a thrilling overtime, South prevailed 35-28 winning their third championship in as many years. Both teams are to be congratulated on a fine season and an exciting final. "Way to go boys!"

Ready, set...free throw?? How many suicides? This year the ladies basketball team had the advantage of being a fine-tuned second year team. The first year basic skills were stretched and refined as Graham Buchanan helped coach this championship-bound team. (At least our pre-season invitational showed this.) Thanks Graham. Ladies, your hard work & persistent attitude has paid off. You looked great out there! Are we tired yet?? Thanks for all your hard work.

This year we were not a tall team, but were extremely well-rounded. This was the best passing team in years. Other strengths were digging and team play. We made up for our lack of height by having some leaders on the team. Highlights of the year included playing Ryerson University and the #2 "AA" high school in Ontario. We continued to play more community college and university teams. At the time of writing, the OBC Swordsmen were 6-0 in matches and 12-0 in games in league play. We are aiming to regain the championship this year!! Let's Go, SWORDSMEN!!

What can be said about our year (especially since this is being written in December!)? A lot actually: Starting the year off undefeated; staying at the top of the conference; Sharp new uniforms ("$25 please"); black Umbros; "KaaaBooom!!"; "Homer!"; carrot muffins; Honeycomb and bagels with cream cheese; "5 push-ups, 5 sit-ups, 5 lows, 5 highs"; Michelle's hat; "life is a highway"; "We are Family!"; thanks for the help, George; skinned knees & elbows, bruised hips and jammed fingers (lots of tape!); "38 Special!"; "Free Ball!!!"; Honnalee (sic?); "How about another cake, Shelly?"; Knee "Pads" and Russellmania!! (great job, captain!). Thanks for the laughter and the memories. Let's do it again! And the last word is.....PUFF!

1993-94 was an exciting year for sports at OBC! Womens Intramural Volleyball started the fun. All teams were well represented with only one resulting forfeit. South's powerhouse team came out on top of the fighting Sem-Odie team in the nail-biting finals. The Womens Floor Hockey Intramural season proved to be another enjoyable, yet anxious fight to the end with the best team triumphing!

In Varsity sports, the experienced Womens Basketball team had a successful season. Despite injuries and other setbacks, the women proved themselves to indeed be the true "Swordswomen"! Womens Varsity Volleyball, with a relatively inexperienced team, shocked everyone with a great showing in every tournament! Congrats Ladies!!

Thank you to all referees, score keepers, players, fans, and especially thanks to Trev and Steve, for a very fun and successful sports year! GO O.B.C. SWORDSMEN!! (and WOMEN)!!

"SWORDSMENNN!!" - the battlecry of the Mighty Swordsmen machine rises before every clash...the battle commences.

What a year it has been for OBC athletics. Whether it was intramural events or varsity action, the Swordsmen crest was again worn with pride and dignity.

Flag Football finished with a flurry as the men from South, in the tradition established by the Chicago Bulls and hopefully our beloved Blue Jays next season, won their third consecutive championship. Floorhockey was another tremendous success which gives credit to all participants who worked hard at making it fun for all. Thanks very much guys.

Varsity sports again proved to be a success due to the commitment and determination displayed by our varsity athletes and coaches. Our Men's Hockey team entered the EHL (Evangelical Hockey League) for the first time and competed well with all teams. Special mention is due our first-year coach, Greg Tobin. Both our volleyball and basketball teams completed seasons of success in all their tournaments.

Thank-you to all those individuals who helped out in many areas over this past year. I couldn't have made it without your support. Thank-you Shelly, my partner, my friend. You were always an encouragement to me.

To all athletes, I have one message:

"Let's do it again next year!"

In their never-ending search for a suitable mate, the women of OBC will stop at nothing to impress and possibly attract that man!

*To be a SUCCESS, don't take .no. for an answer.
Take it for a challenge.*

A good leader is someone who takes a little more than his share of the blame and a little less than his share of the credit.

Behold the Turtle. He makes progress only when he sticks his neck out.

When you have power, use it to build people up, not to constrict them.

Instead of loving your enemies, treat your friends a little bit better.

*There are 3 kind of people:
-those who make things happen
-those who watch things happen
-those who wondered what happened*

Sometimes the facilities in the school just don't seem to work like they're supposed. At those times, the school spares no expense in hiring the best highest trained individuals in the field.

— Oh, Sandy your fly's down! ↑

My Mom always told me not to play with my food. But since coming to OBC, I found food and it's purpose has taken a whole new meaning.

— Yeah, but oatmeal is supposed to be eaten not worn.

Surprise, John!!!!!!!

— Your yearbook editor, John Bowman, on assignment. This is what the Co-Editor of the yearbook will have to put up with next year. Do not be afraid. He really is a nice guy!!!!

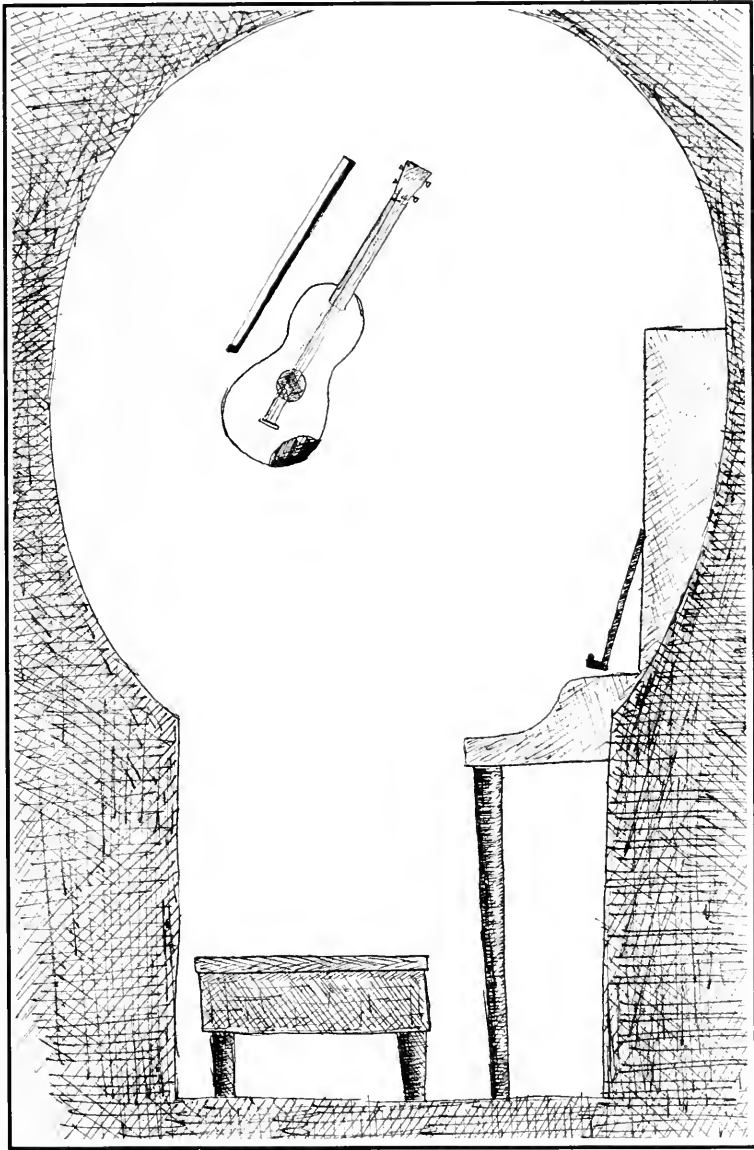

Okay, no one told us we had to pass an arts and crafts exam to be RD's. How am I supposed to say inside the lines anyway?

— Hey, don't worry there's going to be someone along in a while that will give arts and crafts a whole new meaning. Just don't get he/she any crayons. Get it'

You Are...

*In life there are many things we can be
You are the most important of these May God above bless you because you are there when I need you.*

*You are the shoulder I need to cry on,
You are the wall I need to keep me standing
You are the love that keeps me going,
You are the reason that I am here.*

*I thank you for all that you are Your caring is more important than anything anyone could do
For you are a FRIEND!*

To Our Ministry Teams...

As some of you may have noticed, there are a couple of ministry teams not represented here in the pages of the yearbook. That is the fault of the Yearbook Committee and we are sorry. As the time started to close down upon us for deadlines we were unable to get pictures of all of them. One other problem is that we don't have as many teams as we used to and don't see them very much if we did have them. There are two teams that I'd like to mention right now who did or do alot of ministry that we don't see. The first is the Urban Ministries Team who minister to people in downtown Toronto and also Steadfast who minister in churches and events in the way of song, dance and mime. Both of these teams have been a real asset to our community and to the community around us. We are thankful that the members of each team are dedicated to spreading the Gospel of Jesus Christ to all who are around them. The poem above says "Your caring is more important than anyone could do. For you are a FRIEND!" Your love and care for those that you minister goes with out saying, that you do show and perform the love of Christ through your actions. You are all loved and cherished by this community.

"You are...so... beautiful... to me..."

— Aw, Jay, don't be embarrassed! Look at it from this point of view. At least someone is willing to sing a love song to ya!

Hey, did you hit me? You can't hit me! I'm Dawna! Hey!"

— Dawna, remember the moth ball joke? Well, just don't tell it anymore, o.k?

Blaine checks out the financial situation on his cellular...His idea of a study break!

— The Cheryl! Can you come down for a moment?

"Mom didn't say it would be like THIS!"

Laura Collins, Super Secretary, at your service!

— Always with that beautiful smile! Oh, and, hey, can I ask you not to mix skin cream and egg and onion sandwiches again. That smell is really overwhelming.

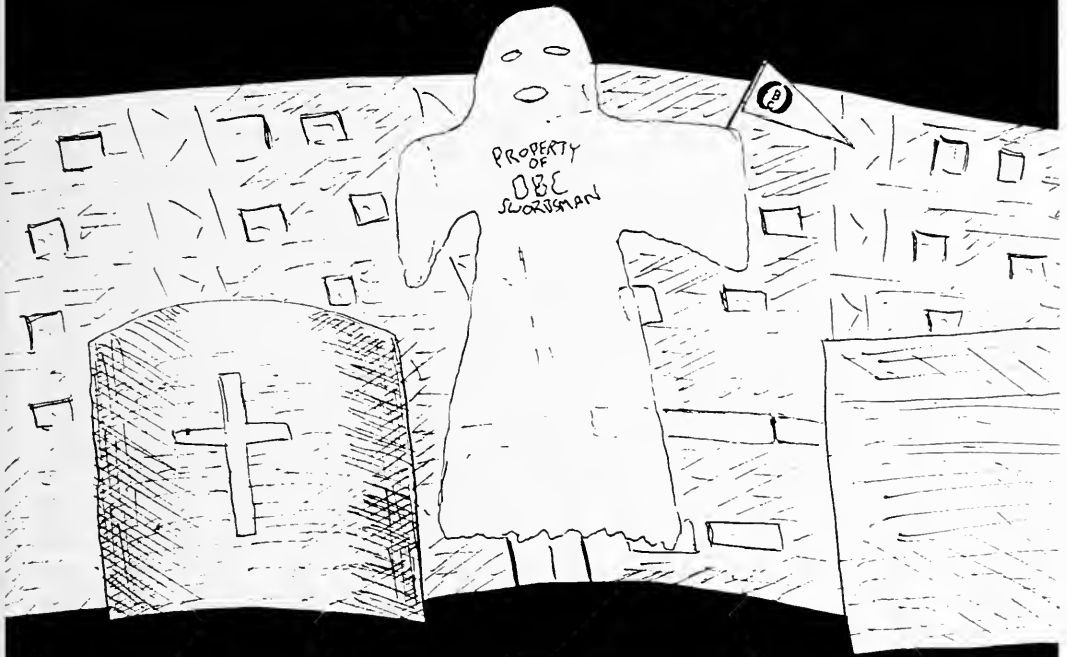

"What?!? You don't LIKE my new OUTFIT??"

— Yes, and I think you need a hair cut too, not to mention that beard. Come on, does Mom need to dress you?

Some of you may not know this guy. He is usually very obscure and incredibly hard to find. His name is Nhai. If you see him, say HI.

"Piggghhh!" If I keep my face this way for a week or two maybe it will treeze like this and then I could really scare people.

Welcome Bill, to the OBC cafeteria. We hope your stay here with us will help you put on some good weight. Oh, by the way someone is watching you. Can you see him?

All the students, staff, and faculty want to wish Greg & Laura Tobin all the best in their years together. May God bless you richly and may his face shine down upon you.

YEAAAHH!! Let's hear it for OBC's Ladies Volleyball Team. They said they were going for the gold. They got the GOLD!! From us to you, Ladies. AWESOME JOB!! ↑

Even though Michelle didn't get to finish, she did get to have a good looking guy hanging off her ankle. Great Job, Michelle!!

Bobby, take care of that ankle, O.K.?

"FREE KISSES!! No cost, no charge. What do ya think? Am I a nominee for the Aunt Jemimah product or what?" ↓

Even though our Central Ladies don't take drugs, that doesn't mean that they can't be flying HIGH, now does it?

— Hev, Cindy get your arm out of my face, would you!?" ↓

"Gotcha!"

Well, my faithful staff. It does seem that everything is finished. No more pages, quotes, pictures, and nagging deadlines to deal with. Our book, "Warriors for Christ" is finished. (And we all said, "AMEN"! [Baptist are we?!]) But I want to play off the idea of being a "Warrior for Christ" for a moment.

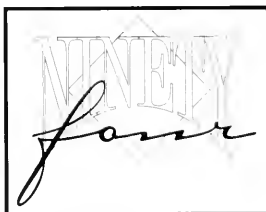

Many times this year I pushed many of you to complete deadlines and whatnot, I gave all kinds of stuff to you to do and you did it, proving that you are all Warriors (that is surviving my pushing and proding). Thanks for all the hard work, not only physically but mentally, that went into the book. You are all very much part of the continuous story of OBC.

Remember to dream the largest goal possible and then add some and go for it! It's our dreams that keep us alive.

God Bless & See ya in next year's pages.....

I Am Slawly Going CRAZY...

John Bowman
Editor 1993-94

The title of my little blurb sure sums up exactly how I am feeling right now. It's the week of our last deadline (February 1-5) and am going very crazy because "I am still short some pages.....AAARRGGHH!!!" and it is driving me crazy. "Where do I find those pages?" and "What can I do to get them?" HEELLPPP!! The life of a yearbook editor is a rough one. Year after year you think to yourself, "Things are going to get easier because you have learned new things in the previous year that will help." WRONGGG! There are always those little nagging things that you don't expect. Here are just a few: 2 x broken cameras · blank films · xtra color charges · sic, sic, sic · SSS - SSS · computer (S%S!@%&) · too much homework (blown off) · procrastination (Something to live by) · one RA murder (Chris) · and many other things as well. Crazy, possibly, insane, maybe, just plain Gone off the Rocker, yep!

The OBC yearbook has given me many times of joy and happiness and at the same time pain and sorrow, but I LOVE IT! It has been a great joy to work over the last two years with many different people in putting together a legacy. I only hope and pray that as you look back at these pages time after time, that they bring you many years of great joy and laughter. I know they have for me and I only put the book together. Oh, and to one person in particular, Lana thanks for putting up with someone who can be a real pain in the neck alot of times. To the rest of my great staff, here's to a marvelous year together and to many more in the future. Adios Amigos. Hi Ho Silver Away.....Ha Ha Ha!!!

The End of the Beginning...

Well, here we are. This the end of another semester and the end of another year. This is a time of celebration and thankfulness and mourning for this marks the end of the 1993-1994 Machaira and the end of the 1993-1994 school year. (Not quite you still have those autograph pages to fill with a lot of memories that we the yearbook committee could never even try to put together!)

A lot of people have put A LOT of work into this year's yearbook. I want to mention a couple of those. John, thank you once again for all of your creativeness. Without all of your hard work, this book would have a generic cover, a lot of square corners and very few pictures (Thanks to all of our Photographers!!). Hey, there were NO 36 hour cramming for deadlines!!!!!! Darrell, you may not go to OBC any longer, but you have contributed a lot with your God-given talent. Thanks for those wonderful title pages, Mr. Title-Page-Man himself. Thanks to all of you who have dropped in to the yearbook office and spent some time just shooting the breeze with me. Some of those times will always be with me. Thank you, OBC, for opening up the many opportunities that have allowed me to be a part of the school. These three years will never be forgotten.

Thank You, Father. You truly are the Author and Creator of all. Thank You for all the gifts and talents that You have given me as well as all the other members of the Yearbook Committee that has allowed us to once again produce a yearbook that is just a little bit better than the rest. You deserve all the honor and glory for this book. ΑΩ
